

Day Charters - Another Way to Experience Yachting

Contributed by Mallory Kennington

There are many clients that prefer a day charter to a term charter. Some are visiting a location and merely want to cruise around for a day to leave time for some activities on the mainland. Some want to charter for only a specific activity like sunset cruises, wine tastings, diving, snorkeling, or fishing and don't want to stay on the boat for an extended period of time. Some travelers are chartering for a special event like a wedding or reunion. Others are planning a corporate function. Still other travelers simply can't manage the cost of a term charter.

We list several vessels available for day charter with varying prices and activities. Some of these vessels are listed below by company name (Please click on the boat name to see its detailed listing):

Endless Blue
